

Stuart Dean Company Acquires ARSI, strengthening Its Presence in Florida.

New York, NY, September 24, 2025

Stuart Dean Company, the nation's leading family-owned architectural restoration company, announced that it has acquired Architectural Restoration Solutions, Inc. (ARSI), based in South Florida, thereby strengthening its presence in the region and preserving the legacy of craftsmanship and exceptional client service.

The acquisition combines Stuart Dean's 90+ years of nationwide expertise with ARSI's regional strength and proven dedication to excellence. Together, they will deliver expanded services, enhanced technical resources, and support in the South Florida market while continuing to provide the personal service and integrity that clients trust.

"By this acquisition, we're building on a shared legacy of excellence and extending even greater resources to our clients," said Chris Hughes, CEO of Stuart Dean.

About Stuart Dean Company, Inc.

Stuart Dean is the nation's leading family-owned provider of architectural restoration and maintenance services. With over 90 years of experience, the company serves clients across the U.S. in various sectors, including commercial real estate, residential, hospitality, retail, education, and more.

For further information, contact

Harold Pandian
Director of Marketing
T. 212.377.9276